

AUXILIARY STATION HANDLES BIG CROWD

Pennsylvania Road Has Special Tracks Installed to Care for Swarming Thousands.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU. ANACOSTIA, D. C., March 4. The Pennsylvania railroad is handling thousands of people who are here for the inauguration through an auxiliary station which is being maintained at the north end of the Pennsylvania avenue bridge, opposite Twining City. A railroad yard has been specially constructed at this point, with tracks and switches laid for the occasion, and an entrance into the streets above has been built. Many trains are shifted to this point, so that the congestion at the Union Station has been relieved somewhat through this method of providing for the entrance to the city of troops and others.

The maintenance of this auxiliary station has made that particular section of the southern district one of animation and rapidly changing scenes. Troops from Georgia, clubs, and organizations from Michigan, New York, Virginia, and many other places were disembarking there last night and this morning, together with hundreds of people not connected with the marching bodies. The yard has been fitted up with electric lights for the convenience of the people, and to facilitate the movement of trains.

This station will be used for entraining visitors and organizations as they are leaving the city after the inaugural ceremonies. The coaches are parked beneath the bridge, awaiting the outward movement.

A provisional police force guarded the southeastern suburbs today and found but little to occupy their attention. They were given orders this morning at the southern precinct station to be on the watch for thieves.

The places of business in the towns and villages in this part of the District made an early closing, and practically the entire population went cityward to the inauguration. The Government Hospital for the Insane was closed in nearly all its departments.

The Anacostia Methodist Episcopal Church has arranged to have the Rev. Samuel W. Grattan, its pastor, deliver a lecture entitled "The End of the Rainbow," as a complimentary entertainment to the people of Anacostia on the evening of March 11.

Engine Company No. 15, was called from Anacostia yesterday evening a distance of two miles to the Knox lane, near Good Hope, where a fire had broken out in the underbrush.

TAF TUSTS TWO AT NEW YORK PORT

"Malfeasance in Office" Is Reason for Discharge of General Appraisers.

Thaddeus S. Sharretts and Roy H. Chamberlain, members of the board of general appraisers in New York, were removed from office on orders issued last night because of "malfeasance in office."

The decision of the President is based on the recommendation of a special investigating board appointed last year. Inquiry was made into the methods of appraisal employed by the board and into the personnel. The latter report was acted upon by the President last night.

Sharretts was removed on charges of using his office to compel favors for himself, especially from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and of setting precedents that would form the basis for favorable decisions in appeal cases in which his son, E. P. Sharretts, acted as attorney.

Chamberlain was found incompetent. His actions had impaired public confidence in the board, according to the recommendation.

THOUSANDS UNABLE TO PACK INTO CARS

Jam on Streets Tremendous and Many Are Forced to Walk to Their Homes.

The street car companies of Washington undertook the largest job in their history last night and undoubtedly will have to repeat after the parade this afternoon. When the suffrage parade had ended thousands and thousands of persons tried to get home. The jam was tremendous.

Only those who marched in the parade yesterday have any idea how many thousands of persons were on Pennsylvania avenue, in intersecting streets and in buildings fronting the avenue.

6:00 Philadelphia and Return, Baltimore and Ohio R. R. Tickets good ten days. Royal Blue trains leave Union Station 7, 9, and 11 a. m.; 1, 3, 4, 5, and 8 p. m.; also 12:30 night and 1:45 a. m. Ticket office, 15th St. and N. Y. Ave., 619 Penn. Ave., and Union Station.—Adv.

avenue. All the way from the House office building to the Corcoran Art Gallery were the densely packed masses of men, women and children. As 300,000 visitors were in the city yesterday afternoon looking at the parade, the number of spectators must have been close to 400,000 according to the police estimates, for half the population of Washington was down town.

Some few thousands got on the waiting street cars and many more thousands waited and waited or else walked home. Until 3 p. m. on the Mt. Pleasant line the cars were carrying densely packed parade spectators home. Many walked as far as Park road through inability to get a seat.

German Editor Fears Europe May Go to War

BERLIN, March 4.—Maximilian Harden, today in an interview, voiced the apprehension of an European war that apparently seems to be agitating many. He said: "The unprecedented preparations of all Europe for war is not evidence of a desire to fight, so much as fear that the nations will have to fight. There is a feeling of the most inevitable."

of war, that neither governments nor persons want.

"Political conditions in Europe today are the most unhealthy that could be conceived, so abnormal that war might be easily precipitated overnight by a blunder."

"Germany is practically isolated and should be prepared to resist overpowering coalitions. Germany should strike first before she is encircled. The Kaiser is too peace loving."

Every Hour on the Hour to Baltimore via Baltimore and Ohio. From Union Station weekdays, 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. Ticket office, 15th St. and New York Ave., 619 Penn. Ave., and Union Station.—Adv.

Watch Reported Stolen.

The theft of a gold watch valued at $50 has been reported to the police by J. R. Fearn, jeweler, at 218 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. The watch was stolen by a young man, who watched it from a tray yesterday afternoon and ran out of the store.

Useful Motor Car.

LIVINGSTON, N. J., March 4.—Maynard de Ronde has invented devices by which he makes his automobile saw wood and freeze ice cream.
